

5002 Praxis Practice Test

Section: 5002 Elementary Education Reading and Language Arts Subtest Exams • Total Questions: 10 • Format: Verified Q&A

1. Which TWO of the following are the primary reasons for engaging students in shared reading activities?

- (A) Providing additional support for struggling students
 - (B) Encouraging students to make new friendships
 - (C) Minimizing the need for a variety of classroom texts
 - (D) Reducing the amount of text students need to memorize
 - (E) Supporting students in building their sight-word knowledge
-

2. Which of the following is considered a primary source of information for research on the history of immigration in the United States?

- (A) A textbook chapter about people who immigrated to the United States through Ellis Island
 - (B) A magazine article comparing the experiences of immigrants over multiple decades
 - (C) A United States census report showing population statistics in major cities
 - (D) A current newspaper article regarding immigration policies
-

3. The graphics add to the reading by serving which TWO of the following purposes?

- (A) Reinforcing a real-world connection
 - (B) Summarizing key facts
 - (C) Providing a mnemonic device
 - (D) Contributing extra information
 - (E) Presenting an organizational framework
-

4. Which of the following digital tools will best allow a teacher to read and provide feedback on a student's writing during the drafting process?

I think that Fern and Avery feel excited to roam the fair alone. Also, I think that the adults feel worried that the kids are alone in a big fair. In the story, it said, 'And if you get on those swings,' said Mrs. Arable, 'You hang on tight. You hang on very tight, you hear?' 'And don't get lost,' said Mrs. Zuckerman. 'And don't get dirty.' This shows that the adults are fretting over the kids, and acting very worried. Also, in the story, it said, 'Can I have some money?' asked Fern. 'Can I too?' asked Avery. 'Can I have a balloon?' This shows that the kids are excited to go and roam the fair. In conclusion, Fern and Avery are excited to go to the fair, and the adults are worried about the kids.

- (A) A wiki
 - (B) A blog
 - (C) A research database
 - (D) A cloud-based document
-

5. Which of the following best incorporates the source material while avoiding plagiarism?

- (A) Born in Sweden in 1701, Celsius became an astronomy professor like his father before him. It was at the same university that his father attended that he built Sweden's first observatory in 1740.""
 - (B) Born in the year 1701, Celsius eventually became professor of astronomy at the University of Uppsala, the same institution where his father had worked. That same school is the location of Sweden's first observatory.
 - (C) The Swedish astronomer Celsius was born in 1701. Following the family business, he became a professor at the University of Uppsala after his father. Ten years later he founded the first observatory in Sweden (Famous People")."
 - (D) Celsius was born in 1701, and replaced his father as professor of astronomy at the University of Uppsala in 1730. It was there that he built Sweden's first observatory in 1740" ("Famous People")
-

6. Once a writer enters the intermediate, or syllables and affixes, stage of spelling development, which of the following proficiencies becomes evident?

- (A) Using rules to accurately add inflectional endings to words
 - (B) Making a clear distinction between writing and drawing
 - (C) Correctly writing words that possess r-controlled vowel sounds
 - (D) Accurately spelling words with consonants in various positions
-

7. The preceding concept is best represented by which of the following terms?

- (A) Phonemic awareness
 - (B) Phonics instruction
 - (C) Guided oral reading
 - (D) Early word families
-

8. A reading teacher asks students to write examples of open-syllable words. Which of the following words written by students correctly fits the pattern?

- (A) Bad
 - (B) Hit
 - (C) She
 - (D) Tab
-

9. Which of the following parts of a textbook is most useful for locating a specific topic or idea quickly?

- (A) Index
 - (B) Credits
 - (C) Prologue
 - (D) Table of contents
-

10. Which of the following best describes a benefit of having students read both excerpts?

- (A) Students can analyze the differences between a primary and a secondary source document.
- (B) Students can compare the facts in the primary source to the emotions expressed in the secondary source.
- (C) Students can understand different points of view when forming an opinion about an event.
- (D) Students can learn to recognize whether sources are reliable.