

5553 Praxis Test

Section: 5511 Fundamental Subjects Exams • Total Questions: 1 • Format: Verified Q&A

1. Various species of fish have different oxygen requirements for survival. The solubility of oxygen in water decreases as temperature rises. Based on the table and graph shown, which of the following species requires the highest concentration of dissolved oxygen for survival?

- (A) Catfish
- (B) Carp
- (C) Herring
- (D) Trout